In Dedication

MRS. GEORGIA RUNYAN

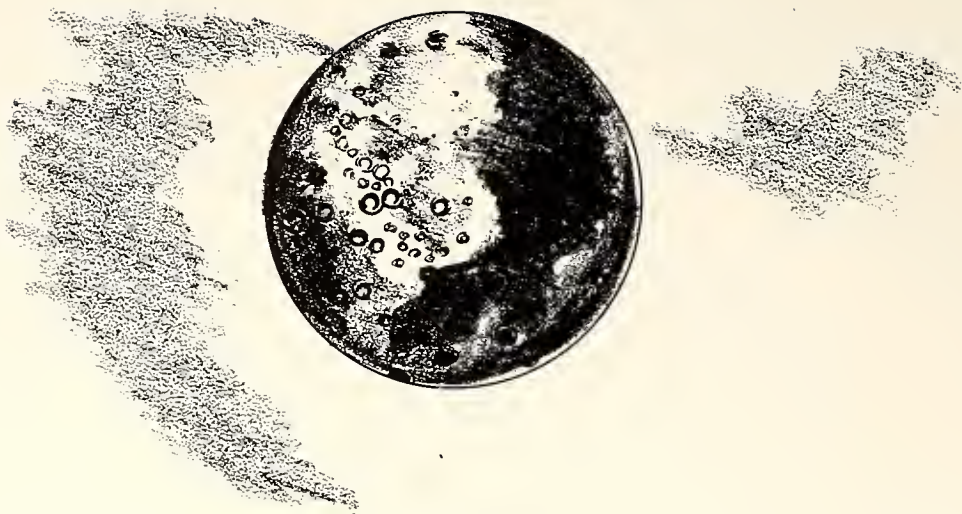

Whenever we students were faced with a problem, Mrs. Runyan was always ready to help find its solution and to lend a helping hand to those of us who needed it. Whenever the road seemed long and impassable, she was there to offer encouragement.

Mrs. Runyan loved to teach, and her students loved her. Finally, after half a lifetime of teaching, she retired on doctor's orders. Then last year on a hot summer day, the shocking news came that she had departed from us.

Her knowledge and words of wisdom still linger in our hearts. We know that we will never forget her.

To the fond and loving memory of Mrs. Georgia Runyan, we--the class of 1961--wish to dedicate our yearbook.

Dear Students:

Public education in America is designed to develop individuals so that they will defend, preserve, and extend the "Democratic Way of Life". Our system of education is not merely for the elite in intelligence or social status. Every individual, regardless of class, race, or religion, should have the opportunity to develop his talents and abilities. The organization, content, goals, and methods of education are aimed at producing enlightened citizens who will share the rights and responsibilities of freedom and self-government.

In a land of free speech and free press, it is important for citizens to learn to express their ideas freely and well; yet they must be ready to allow free expression of ideas which differ from their own. This expression of ideas must be made without bitterness or rancor, for it is an axiom of American democracy that no matter how much we disagree during the process of making the decision, after it is made, we must unite to carry it to its conclusion. Through the "give and take" of classroom, debating forum, athletic field, and extra-curricular contacts, our schools teach the democratic method of making and carrying out decisions.

Through the services of the public school, a willing citizen can learn to think effectively, to communicate his thoughts, to make sound judgements, and to discriminate between true and false values.

Sincerely yours,

James D. Fulford
Principal

MY DEAREST JOYCE,

I have just returned from a trip around the world. A very wonderful thing happened to me on my trip--I saw everyone who graduated from Bunker Hill High School with the class of 1961. I know you're just dying to hear what each of them is doing.

Leaving Bunker Hill on March 1, 1971, I first traveled east toward New England. There I stopped to see Leonard Shirley who is now giving puppet shows for children. In New York I saw a great Broadway play written by Marsha Morris and directed by Richard Jarvis. The play, entitled "Cupid's Lovers", starred George Guglielmetti and Sally Enser. They are both famous actors in New York now. You'll never guess who sat next to me at the play--Diana Caley and her six children! She's the wife of a wealthy Boston playboy.

I next went to Washington to see the President of the United States --Jerry Herrell. His ideas have certainly made many tremendous changes in the lives of his people. President Herrell introduced me to his cabinet members. Guess who they were! Gary Brown, Bob Caley, Bob Connelly, Jerry Gardner, and Bill Percy, no less! In addition, I visited Representative Winston Brooks. He's certainly doing a great job for the people back home.

Upon leaving the U. S., I traveled to South America. There I saw Peg Fisher (that was her maiden name) with her big, handsome husband who is now a lumberjack along the Amazon River. Peg is a snake charmer--on the side! Bill Clay, Jim Cook, Wayne Detrick, and Joe Finster were on an expedition through the jungle while I was in South America. They had just returned with some captured natives--women, of course! (Some of those gals with those big lips!)

The captain of the ship on which I embarked was Kenny Lime. Susie Michael and Cheryl Broome were both employed as hostesses on the ship. On board I also ran into Ed Turner, who now travels around the world selling merchandise for the Seymore Lingerie Company. He's been a terrific success--but that figures!

In Gay Paree I ran into Bev Wonzer who designs clothes for a huge company there. Lynda Shofstall, Betty Bowers, and Lyn Kohlun are the raving beauties who model these Wonzer creations. I dined in Paris at "Gary's Palace", a large and luxurious restaurant where G. Rardon, Esq., is the chief cook and bottle washer.

When I attended a bull fight in Madrid, I was very surprised to see Jerry Brock in the ring with that horrible bull! But then, Joyce, Jerry always was good at throwin' the bull around, wasn't he?

Tony Zmijewski and Larry Baker are now hunting elephants in Africa. I guess they love the BIG things in life.

John Wolf and Carolyn Brawner now have their own combos, and they take turns being the star attractions at an exclusive hotel in Hawaii. Nancy Amos is also giving dancing lessons in Hawaii--that charming hula dance, you know--and among Nancy's students are Butch Hollenback, Pat Smith, Jim Wheelless, and Jan Searles. You just should see what these Americans can do with that native dance!

Mary Lou Engel also lives on the Islands. No one sees her very often, because she picks cocoanuts in the jungle parts. I understand she was recently elected president of the International Coconut Pickers Association.

When I arrived back in the States at San Francisco, I was very happy to be met at the airport by Pat Kinzie and Mary Jane Miller with their families. They told me that Jim Stambaugh is the present warden at Alcatraz. And who should I see driving down the street in a flashy new convertible--Jim Wilson! Jim is a big director in Hollywood. He recently made a movie starring Sherry Chamberlain and Dean Finster (with Malinda's consent!). Among the cast are Mary Turner, Ray Erbaugh, and Mary Kay Wood. Have you heard that Joe Konecni is now a professor of math at U. C. L. A.?

Roberta Garner lives on a big cattle ranch in Texas. She certainly showed me a good time while I visited her. Among her cowhands are Wayne Wyatt, Jim Stevens, and Loren Poff.

Finally I returned to Bunker Hill. (Did you know Bunker's population is now one million and that the Army has taken over the base?) Upon my return I found that Malinda Adkins had just returned from a tour with the circus. She is a lion tamer with the Barnam and Bailey Circus which has moved to Peru.

Jerry Black, Carole Ciucio, Joyce Elmore, Judy Mowery, Kay Sonafrank, and Alma Truax are all on the town board at Bunker Hill. Oh, yes, I must remember Steve Bostic. Steve is the mayor of Bunker now, and he and his wife live in the mayor's mansion.

And you, Joyce, I was so happy to visit you at the Windy Hill Home for Spinsters. Who would have ever dreamed that you, of all people, would have turned down love, romance, and money (!) to become superintendent of a broken-down old maids' home! (By the way, Dear, is it true that your head caretaker of the grounds is a Purdue graduate? Really, what a scandal!)

Be sure, Darling, to watch my next television spectacular, "Pat White Presents". In my leading roles I've cast James Fulford (remember him?) as the western villain, Janet Douglass (they say she's actually married) as the saloon dancer, and John McElheny (you know, he's still driving that silly Jaguar!) as the rough 'n' ready gun slinger! It's just one dilly of a show!

Well, Joyce, I hope you have enjoyed hearing about our fellow classmates. Be good, Dear, and do write sometime.

LOTSA LOVE,

Pat White

Four years ago we were green freshmen. We entered our first year of high school with the feeling that we were the smallest people in the world, a world filled with many new, exciting, and wonderful things. We felt lost, but with the help of upper-classmen, we soon found our way around B. H. H. S. As we were testing our wings during our freshman year, we decided to take a class trip to Turkey Run. From this trip we gained valuable knowledge. We enjoyed our trip so much that we returned to the same state park the following year.

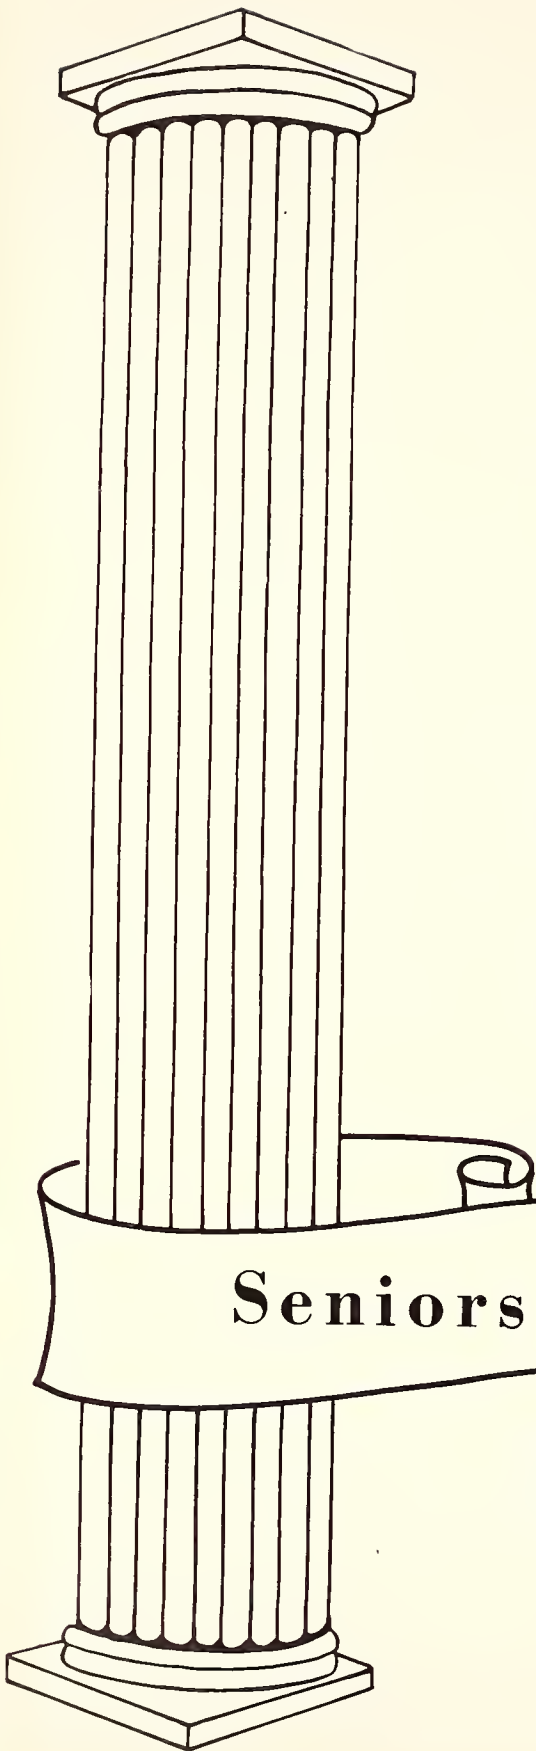

Next came our sophomore year. This was the year that we ordered our class rings. We were getting older now. Yes, we were finally growing up!

Our junior year was even more exciting than the years before. We received our class rings and also gave our junior class play, "The Matchmaker", under the veteran direction of Mrs. Wibel. Our play was very successful, and it aided our class funds tremendously. We also enjoyed a class party at Clear Water that year.

We are seniors at last now! This is our most important year in high school. We again helped our class funds by selling magazines and by presenting our senior class play, "Our Town", capably directed by Mr. Sisulak. We were truly Broadway-bound after our second dramatic success.

Yes, we have finally completed our high school careers. We feel as though we are something special now, because we are the upper-classmen. Now it's our turn to help all of those underclassmen. It is our turn to do all we can to help make our school successful. We have greatly appreciated the guidance of Mr. Thompson, our junior and senior sponsor. His leadership has been vitally important for the success of every goal we had set. We are also proud to be the first graduating class from the new addition to our alma mater, Bunker Hill High School. Yes, we are the seniors of 1961!

THE PULITZER PRIZE PLAY

OUR TOWN

by THORNTON WILDER

"THE GREATEST AMERICAN PLAY

"Our Town" is an especially striking play for many reasons, one of which is the fact that the stage setting requires a minimum of scenery. Shown below are Jerry Herrell, Peg Fisher, and Winston Brooks in their leading roles.

EVER WRITTEN" - Clifton Fadiman

BELOW: Jerry Herrell, serving as both the Stage Manager and Mr. Morgan, poses with Winston Brooks as George Gibbs and Peg Fisher as Emily Webb in the drug store scene from "Our Town".

ABOVE: Ed Turner as Dr. Gibbs and Joyce Cain as Mrs. Gibbs discuss whether or not they should permit their son to be married. BELOW: Jerry Herrell as the Stage Manager and Minister unites Peg Fisher as Emily Webb and Winston Brooks as George Gibbs in holy matrimony in a very dramatic scene from "Our Town".

ABOVE: Richard Jarvis as Simon Stimson, the drunken choir director in "Our Town", conducts rehearsal. Front row, left to right, are Jan Searles, Joyce Cain, Pat Smith, and George Guglielmetti. Back row, left to right, are Marsha Morris and Dean Finster. BELOW: These stepladders represent the upstairs of the Gibbs' home and the Webbs' home. Pictured left to right are Winston Brooks, Nancy Amos, Jerry Brock, and Peg Fisher.

"You're fired!" Pictured above is an exciting scene from our junior play which we presented in the spring of 1960. Mrs. Wibel was the director of this play.

CONCERT BAND

Actually there are two bands at Bunker Hill--the Concert Band and the Marching Band. The Marching Band usually performs at home basketball games and special events like the Ball State Band Day, the Indiana State Fair, and the Peru Circus City Festival. The Concert Band entertains at formal concerts at the school and with other county school bands in a mass concert in the spring. Another spring feature is a band tour through this section of Indiana. The Concert Band visits other schools and presents a program to them.

Mr. Moon, who takes great pride in his musical organization, has every right to feel proud of the band students' performances, for the Bunker Hill High School Band has become known as one of the finest groups in this area.

DANCE BAND

ABOVE: The members of the Junior Band, who come from the 8th and 9th grades, are preparing eventually to enter the Senior Band.

CONCERT-JUNIOR BAND

Barbara Engel, Junior

Sue Moon, Freshman

PERU CIRCUS CITY FESTIVAL

The Bunker Hill High School Band attracted oodles of attention at the Peru Circus City Festival which was held in Peru on September 17. The Bunker Band proved its superiority by walking away with first prize of $100. Other schools participating were such notables as Peru, Adams Central, Galveston, and other schools in the vicinity. Joyce Cain, majorette, is followed by the twirlers, the pom-pom girls, and finally the band proper. Mr. Moon accompanied the group.

POM-POM GIRLS

"THE MELLOTONES"

This group--composed of Joyce Cain, Peg Fisher, and Cheryl Moon--has won First Division ratings in district and state competition during the year. These girls have appeared on television in Indianapolis and have sung on radio. The Mellotones, who have sung together four years, are practiced artists.

VOCAL TRIOS

VOCAL SEXTETTE

The members of this group are Bev Wonzer, Pat White, Joyce Cain, Cheryl Moon, Sunnie Cobb, and Peg Fisher. A new organization this year, these girls have striven to reach a high degree of performance.

AND SEXTETTE

VOCAL TRIO

Pictured at right are Susan Fisher, Sunnie Cobb, and Sue Moon who compose this vocal trio. Just formed this year also, these three girls have gained experience through many hours of hard work. They will probably be singing together during their remaining high school years at Bunker.

HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR

Under the direction of Miss Douglass, the High School Choir performs with an air of sophistication. An extra-curricular activity, membership to this organization is open to those students whose grades are satisfactory and who have sufficient interest and ability in vocal music.

Miss Douglass emphasizes the value of music to an individual's everyday experiences and the cultivation of musical appreciation.

The Choir participates in music programs and activities sponsored by the department throughout the school year.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Marsha Morris ..... President
Malinda Adkins ..... Vice President
Lyn Kohlun ..... Sec.-Treas.
Mrs. Hammond ..... Sponsor

Members of a national scholastic organization, these students are interested in journalism and related fields.

Joyce Cain, editor-in-chief of the '61 Spirit, has had the success of this year's annual close at heart all year. Although every free second Joyce has is occupied with extra-curricular activities, she has always found time to devote to making the current yearbook Bunker's BEST!

Ed Turner, who has served as associate editor of the Spirit, has also shown interest in putting the book together in high fashion. Along the financial end, he aided Bill Percy.

YEARBOOK STAFF

Mr. Sisulak comes to Bunker with both training and experience in yearbook publication. He served as editor of the Gilead yearbook two years, copy editor of the Manchester College yearbook one year, and sponsor of the Monticello yearbook two years.

Bill Percy has served capably as business manager for the '61 Spirit. Although a huge job, Bill managed the finances of the yearbook expertly.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The members of the Student Council are, seated left to right: Tania Bowyer, junior class representative; Mary Lou Engel, president of Sunshine Society; Joyce Cain, president of National Honor Society; Dean Finster, president of senior class; Malinda Adkins, senior class representative; Nancy Amos, president of high school choir. Standing: Joe Newman, library representative; Tim Meeks, president of sophomore class; Ron Kirk, sophomore class representative; Richard Plothow, president of junior class; Frank Hahn, president of band; Jim Wilson, president of F. F. A.; Sue Moon, freshman class representative; Billie Jo Carter, president of freshman class; Pamela Jones, president of eighth grade; and Tom Keys, eighth grade class representative.

"They are Minutemen!" Our cheer block backed the team through a tough one with Clay.

SECTIONAL SNAPS

Bunker keeps fighting all the way!

And the race is on!

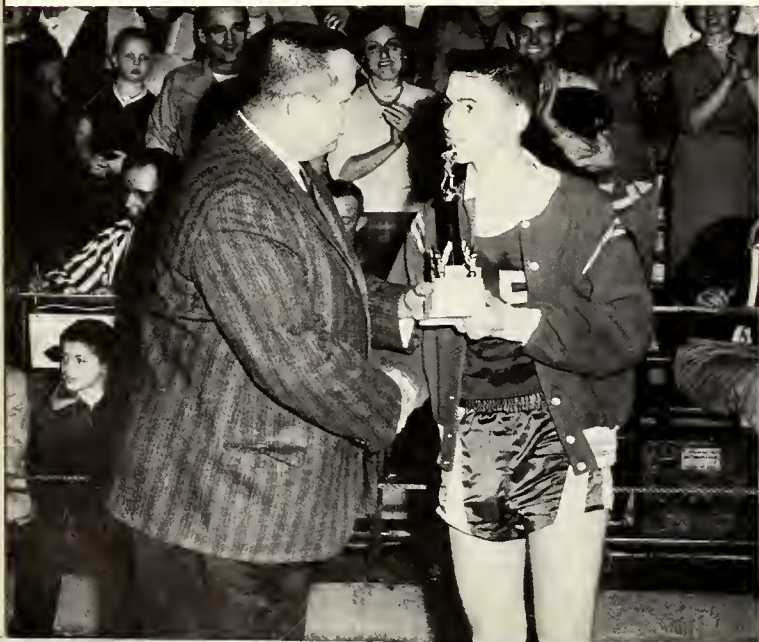

Jubilant Minutemen celebrate after beating Deedsville, Chili, and Gilead.

1961 COUNTY CHAMPS

The championship game on Saturday evening, January 14, 1961, marked the official close of the Annual Miami County Basketball Tourney. With the consolidation this fall of five northern schools--Gilead, Mexico, Deedsville, Chili, and Macy--only these four high schools will remain in Miami County: the new North Miami Consolidated High School, Peru High School, Clay Township High School, and Bunker Hill High School.

Mr. Geyer presents Richards Award to senior Dean Finster.

Mr. Fulford presents trophy to Mike Brechbiel and Coach Helms.

Coach Helms helps cut down the nets at the Tig-Arena.

On to victory! Another basket for Bunker assures success

BUNKER 63-GILEAD 54

Gilead, with its players' and fans' hearts set on winning their first county championship in history, were denied this last fling at fame by the Minutemen in the final round of the Miami County Basketball Tourney held in the huge Peru gymnasium. Having won the county crown numerous times through the years, the Bunker Hill Minutemen re-asserted their claim that they are, indeed, hardwood masters.

Gilead players move in to stop Caldwell--a little short!

The Wildcats realize defeat in the last few minutes.

OUR SCHOOL HELPERS
